SCENES IN CANADA

REV. WALTER E. EDMONDS TELLS OF WAR-TIME SENTIMENT IN DOMINION

Canada is neither solemn nor sulky over the great war in Europe, where already she has sent 150,000 of her gallant sons; but she is serious. All over the Dominion the young men are in the training camps and the voice of the drill sergeant is heard in the land. In the homes, however, there is an undertone of seriousness observable. Most of the Canadian families have members at the front. Some of them have dear children or relatives buried in those horrible pits in Flanders.

"Undoubtedly the war has made a great deal of difference in Canada," said the Rev. Walter E. Edmonds to a representative of The Glendale Evening News. "I spent the greater part of my vacation in the vicinity of Victoria and Vancouver, going up and returning by boat and having a very pleasant and enjoyable trip. I was especially pleased to make acquaintance with the interesting country in the west of Canada.

"It is quite observable that the war absorbs all the energy and thought of the Canadian people. They are clear-minded people and quite capable of reflecting to some effect on what this war would mean to them should the allies lose. They have given unstintingly of their best men. They have equipped them in excellent style and sent them forth with their blessing; but it is still possible to see the grief in those stoical countenances. Many of the best families in Canada are now mourning their best-loved ones, and many more will have their share of the mourning. This feeling broods over the land, not to make any difference to the determination of the Canadians to fight to the end, but lend a tone of seriousness to everything connected with the common life of the country.

"When I was in Vancouver I saw a camp of fine young men drilling. There were 14,000 of them. They were all enthusiastic over going to defend the empire. I also noticed while there that the young Canadians were enlisting at the rate of 200 a day. Near Vancouver at a pretty spot called Vernon there were 8000 men in camp. Their training seemed to be careful and constant.

" Ithink that in all the British empire the Canadian people are the most picturesquely and effectively loyal. Not that I want to institute comparisons, but loyalty is in the air in that country. It is deep and genuine; not the flamboyant kind that is ever shouting and waving the flag, but the quiet kind that goes ahead and acts. This loyalty is not confined to any single class; it pervades all. The war seems to have brought all together in a most wonderful manner. They are a deeply serious people, and I believe that the war will still further deepen their faith.

"I was at several of their church meetings and I noticed that this feeling pervaded all. It rang through their prayer. It quivered in their solemn reading of the Scriptures. It vibrated in their psalms and hymns. Every one of them seemed to realize that the country is passing through a season of trial. I believe that it will emerge from that time of testing with deepened faith and more general consecration.

"Throughout Canada it is noticeable that building has ceased to a great extent. The people are husbanding their resources and avoiding expense for even legitimate undertakings in order that they may be prepared for the emergencies of the war. I intend to take up a great deal of these conditions and present them to my people in a series of sermons which I will announce at once.

"Church life in Canada is on a good basis. The people seem to attend church very faithfully. The churches are full. The people whose families have been broken into by the war feel the necessity of keeping in close communion with God. I was deeply impressed with the ungrudging spirit of the Canadians, and still more by their abounding faith in God and their confidence in His mercies.

"Prohibition has made such an advance in Canada as a result of the war and the example of Russia that I look with much confidenec to the result of coming elections in the different provinces. Some are already prohibition. When they all have entered the dry ranks they will petition parliament for national prohibition.

"I found Seattle a wideawake town. Business seemed quiet there, but then it is not much to boast of anywhere. I spent some time in that northern city, which has one of the largest and most successful Presbyterian churches in the United States. Returning to Glendale, however, I was glad to get back and find myself once more in the peace and restful atmosphere of this delightful city."

FISH AND GAME LAWS

PERSONS INDULGING IN HUNTING OR FIISHING MUST HAVE LEGAL LICENSES

Henceforth those who go out to "entice the members of the finny tribe to engulf within their serrated jaws the barbed hook," as a recent humorist described fishing, will have to show their fishing licenses, while those who seek to kill deer or any kind of game must do likewise. The California fish and game commission will not recognize mere receipts for money paid in lieu of such licenses. All persons holding such receipts much procure legal licenses or they will be liable to arrest.

The California fish and game commission is posting notices throughout the state setting forth the provisions of the hunting license act and the anglers' license act. The condition which the commission hopes to remedy is of such importance that the commission is doing everything in its power to set this matter before the public with a view to its being remedied. Following are the sections of the acts referred to:

Hunting License Act

"Section 1. Every person in the state of California who hunts, pursues or kills any of the wild birds or animals, excepting predatory birds or animals, without first procuring a license therefor, as provided by this act, is guilty of a misdemeanor."

Anglers' License Act

"Section 1. Every person over the age of eighteen years who, in the state of California, takes, catches or kills any game fish for any purpose other than for profit, without first procuring a license therefor, as provided in this act, is guilty of a misdemeanor."

Section 431 of the penal code provides:

"Every person who uses or gives any receipt, except that prescribed by law, as evidence of the payment of any poll tax, road tax or license of any kind, or who receives payment of such tax or license without delivering the receipt prescribed by law, or who inserts the name of more than one person therein, is guilty of a misdemeanor."

INJURED THE STREET

In Judge Whomes' court Thursday Walter Reder of Los Angeles, a teamster, was fined $5 for having driven a heavy truck over the newly constructed street in Columbus avenue. Evidence showed that Roder was warned by the foreman of the street gang to get off the street, but refused.

TYPHUS FEVER MENACE

While the epidemic of typhus fever in Europe seems to be on the decrease because the little insect which transmits it paradoxically goes into winter quarters in summer, the United States public health service has issued a warning to all quarantine officers to keep a sharp lookout for the disease among passengers arriving from Greek and Italian ports.

The overcrowding, lack of bathing facilities, and general unsanitary conditions brought about by the state of war in Europe have made the fiscal year 1915-1915 a typhus year. The extensive outbreak which occurred in Austria-Hungary and Servia is probably responsible for the introduction of the disease into Germany, but as immigration from these countries is at the present time practically nil, the government's sanitary corps considers passengers from Greece and Italy of greater potential health menace to this country.

The disease has also been reported in Spain, at Zurich and St. Gall in Switzerland, and at Moscow, Odessa, Petrograd and Warsaw in Russia.

BRAND BOULEVARD EXTENSION

A meeting of the Brand Boulevard Extension association will be held at the Chamber of Commerce on Saturday, Sept. 18, at 7:30 p. m. This is an important meeting and everyone is invited to be present. Come and bring your friends and boost for the extension of Brand boulevard to Los Angeles.

Morse Preeman, Homer Bullard and Darwin Hirschman, who graduated from Glendale Union High school with the class of 1915, go on Monday to attend classes in Throop College of Technology, Pasadena.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, SR., SAYS HE WILL NOT HELP TO CARRY ON CONFLICT IN EUROPE

(Special Service to Glendale News. Copyright, 1915, by United Press)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 17.—John D. Rockefeller, Sr., has definitely, positively and finally declared that he will take no part in lending money to carry on the conflict in Europe. In an interesting interview obtained with the world's richest man by the United Press today, it was learned that the oil king had been offered opportunities to enrich himself further by lending money to the warring nations, but has absolutely refused.

RUSSIANS BUILD WINTER QUARTERS

FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND GERMANS IN DESPERATE ASSAULT AGAINST LINES DEFENDING VILNA, RIGA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PETROGRAD, Sept. 17.—Four hundred thousand Germans are today prosecuting a desperate attack on the Russian lines defending Vilna and Riga. At one point the Russians retreated. At others they advanced, capturing 1100 Germans. Winter quarters and strong defensive entrenchments are being built by the Russians all along the battle line.

VILLA FORCES WIN VICTORY

CARRANZISTAS SMASHED BY 40 MACHINE GUNS AND 20 FIELD PIECES; LOSE 115 DEAD, 300 WOUNDED AND 600 PRISONERS

Special Service to Glendale Evening News

NOGALES, Ariz., Sept. 17.—Villa forces, defending the valleys of Sonora, smashed the right wing of the attacking Carranza army today by concentrating the fire of 40 machine guns and 20 field pieces. The Carranzistas lost 115 dead, 300 wounded and 600 prisoners.

SIGNS OF COMING PROSPERITY

That there are signs of prosperity in the country is manifest to all except the man without money and he is no small factor numerically. Since the war broke out in Europe there has been quite a large amount of money spent in this land for various manufactured articles. That money, it is true, has gone to a great extent to swell the bank accounts of the manufacturers; but even then the manufacturer has been compelled to pay wages and in many cases higher wages than usual for the work done.

Money, must perforce go into circulation to a certain extent; yet there are not lacking indications that the wage earner like the wage payer is saving his money for emergencies. Still there is more confidence now than at any time during the past four years. People are looking for some change in the conditions of the country that will benefit the masses.

It is becoming apparent that under President Wilson's wise manipulation of the negotions with Germany there will be no clash between this country and the Kaiser's government over submarine warfare. There are many details to be arranged concerning this matter; but it has practically gone into the stage of discussion where it is a mere matter of detail.

Under the stimulation of the idea that peace will reign as far as this country is concerned confidence in home prosperity is beginning to gain ground. There is every appearance that there will be a good fall trade. It is true that both trade and traffic are still considerably below normal; but there is a ripple on the surface of the business waters that indicates the approach of favoring breezes.

According to a recent statement of the Comptroller of the currency, the banks of the United States have it in their own power to expand loans by as large a sum as $3,000,000,000. Fancy what an effect such a sum would have in stimulating business were it only poured into the empty purses now agape for it.

When one looks at the prospects of the crops one is amazed why with such quantities of produce from the corn fields of the land there should be any talk of lack of prosperity. The present harvest is exceeding all expectations as to quantity. Wheat everywhere is already surpassing the government estimates; corn is almost a record crop; oats is more than a record.

When one turns to cotton the outlook is not so satisfactory; but it is not nearly so bad as might have been expected. Cotton is now on the contraband list as far as the allies who hold the seas are concerned; but even that does not materially affect the cotton growers, for it has hitherto been almost impossible to ship any cotton to Germany on account of Britain's effective blockade. Of course, the British will buy enormous quantities of cotton and meanwhile the cotton growers themselves have made arrangements for storing cotton and for limiting the acreage of planting. This year's yield is considerably less than that of last year and the loss by the war will be practically very little.

Thus it may be inferred that business prosperity is reaching almost full tide in the East where the allies are spending their money; in the Middle West, where agriculture is supreme and in the Rocky Mountain section where the demand for mining products is causing great activity. On the Pacific Coast agriculture, dairying and horticulture are a stable prosperity to those who pursue them.

TO CONQUER DISEASE

MEDICAL SCIENCE HAS MANY DIVERSE CORPS OF WORKERS IN ITS CAMPAIGN

One of the most useful of the government bureaus is the public health service. Enlisted in the ceaseless campaign which this efficient department is waging against disease of all kinds are men of diverse qualities and attainments.

The victories which medical science has won over disease have in very few instances, if ever, been decided by a lucky chance. Only by utilizing the accumulated knowledge of centuries and all the information available from his contemporaries has the investigator been enabled to make significant discoveries leading to the cure or prevention of disease.

Contributions to the medical science of today come from the most diverse sources. The physical chemist determines one fact, the pathologist another, the economist and a host of other specialists make and record their observations and the interpretations which they place upon them. These discoveries must stand trial at the hands of contemporary workers along the same lines. If they stand the test they become incorporated into a working hypothesis to be applied practically until new discoveries show it to be false in fact or interpretation, or place it in a new light where its application may be different.

Thus in the case of the disease which we know as malaria (meaning "bad air") the original observations that the disease prevailed in swampy regions and tended to die out when the region was cultivated and improved have stood the test of time and still stand as facts. The interpretation, however, that the disease was due to poisonous air arising from the swamps has been totally disproved. The fact is now well established that malaria is carried by certain mosquitoes which breed in the swamps. Preventive measures based on this fact are, therefore, definite and purposive, and are being widely and successfully employed.

The literature in which observations bearing on medical subjects are reported and thrashed out is of such enormous volume that no one mind can compass it. Even with the aid of periodicals which attempt to collect and classify this literature in the form of abstracts, the worker in one single little branch of a medical specialty is hard pushed to keep abreast of his subject. It is like a fusillade of bullets directed against our common enemy, "disease." If many a bullet misses the wark, it is nevertheless true that now and then some do hit it squarely. Disease is slowly but surely being pushed back from trench to trench, and ultimate victory is only a matter of time, perseverence and concerted action.

A REASONABLE REQUEST

Persons phoning want ads to The Evening News office are expected to make payment for the same at the News office, 920 West Broadway, the day the advertisement is ordered published, unless in the instance of a business firm with whom monthly settlements are made. The amounts are too small to charge and collect by a collector without loss. 23tf

GRAIN AS A MEASURE

The grain, as a measure of weight, has its name from being originally the weight of a grain of wheat. A statute passed in England in 1266 ordained that 32 grains of wheat, taken from the middle of the ear and well dried, should make a pennyweight, 20 of which should make an ounce, while 12 ounces were to make a pound.

The pound, therefore, consisted then of 7680 grains. But several centuries later the pennyweight was divided into 24 grains, which made the troy pound 5760 grains. The pennyweight was the exact weight of a silver penny. The standard grain was prescribed by act of parliament in the reign of George IV.

There are twice as many people in the United States as in 1880, three times as many as at the outbreak of the Civil war, and five times as many as in 1849. The increase between 1910 and 1915 is said to have been equal to the entire population at the time of the Revolution.

The rush of people into Vera Cruz, Mexico, since United States soldiers evacuated it has raised the population from 35,000 to more than 100,000. It is said that all traces of the cleanup our troops made have long since disappeared, and that the water and sanitation problems are acute.

AMERICAN BOYS IN WAR

MORE THAN 2000 UNITED STATES LADS ARE FIGHTING IN THE BRITISH RANKS

Between 50 and 60 American youngsters have been "rescued" from the British army by the American embassy, it was learned today.

The embassy has only interfered in cases where parents of the boys have appealed for its intervention, and those restored are but part of the number of ardent American minors who have enlisted under the guise of Canadians.

Notable among the erstwhile soldiers are Howard and Harold Hudson, twins, aged 16, of Bridgeport, Conn. Thanks to the embassy of Uncle Sam, they are now safe and sound at home with their parents. The boys were sent to England for schooling. When war began to be the sole topic of conversation, school held no charms for the twins. They ran away and enlisted in a Sussex regiment. They told the recruiting sergeant they were 18 and easily passed the military examination. They soldiered for many weeks. Finally word of the true situation found its way to the Hudson home in Bridgeport. An appeal was hurriedly dispatched to the state department at Washington. It was passed on to the American embassy in London. The twins were quickly "grabbed" and sent home.

Many of the youths whose soldier life has been interrupted by Uncle Sam still remain in England. In some cases their parents are unable to send them money to buy civilian clothing and return to America. No fund at the embassy provides for such expenditures. Relief societies in London are caring for some of them. An American steamship line has agreed to take three each voyage, provided they will work their way to New York.

Inquiry at the embassy recently emphasized the importance of sending funds from America if parents wish the government to reclaim their sons from Europe's battlefields. When the American authorities find the boys they are, of course, garbed in khaki. Their citizen clothing has been left behind. Funds are needed to buy new raiment. Money is also necessary for their keep and to send them to Liverpool, where they may take their turn at work on an American liner. The embassy is making the best of a bothersome situation.

Unofficial records show that more than 2000 Americans are enrolled in the various divisions of the British army, mainly the Canadian contingent. Over 100 are dead on the battlegrounds of Flanders. Adventure and the pure love of "a scrap" is the motive which has impelled the majority to brave their bodies to bullets, according to the general opinion. Some few have taken to heart what is declared to be "the German menace," and have enlisted to help England, believing that America would come next on the German list if the allies fail. This sentiment, however, is not the predominant one among the American volunteers. The majority are the care-free young men of large American cities.

According to General Sam Hughes, Canadian minister of defense, recently in England, many West Point cadets have offered their services in the Canadian army, and some are now serving as trained officers.

Americans are not only in the uniform of England, but are working in various related capacities. Over 50 are actively connected with the ministry of munitions, aiding in the reorganization of British industries. Some are mechanics, but the majority are skilled engineers getting invaluable experience. A small colony of young men from various American universities are at work in the armament buildings, Whitehall, London.

JUST AS IT SHOULD BE

The Glendale Evening News has in connection a very complete job printing plant, equipped with the most modern machinery, which is operated by specialists in the printer's art. Residents of the Glendale community have found it to their interests to have job printing done at The Evening News printing plant, where it is possible to receive so many little courtesies through the columns of the daily paper. They have thought it unfair to get the advantages afforded by a daily paper and then place orders for job work elsewhere. Most people have a keen sense of honor in their makeup.

The English sparrow, thought to be a city bird, is found on the farms of the northeastern part of the United States to the extent of five pairs on each farm.

GIVING CONTRACTS TO LOWEST BIDDER

In theory the giving of acontract to the lowest bidder is substantially the best way to get any large building job done; in practice it is beginning to be found the worst way possible. As long as those who entered bids for public work were men of responsibility, capable and experienced and all standing on the same platform of reliability and knowledge, the theory of the "lowest bidder" worked out beautifully to a city's advantage.

Now, however, it appears that many contractors have entered this business who are distinguished for poor work and tardy payment of their obligations and on whose accounts material supply men look with suspicion. The first class of men usually figure accurately on all jobs. Their bids are generally found pretty close to each other and the difference of a few dollars is nothing. This difference is the only way in which the practically equal claims of such contractors can be dealt with. When the lowest of such bids is accepted the others will confess that their rival is likely to make a good job of the contract.

Nowadays, however, civic work is too often given to the lowest bidder at a figure that makes it practically certain that he cannot obtain any profit. If the contractor should hold to the specifications in some recent bids in some of the cities of California it is well known that he would be ruined. Sometimes if he is merely an honest fool and not a rogue, he is ruined, and thrown out of the circle of civic contractors to seek fortune in some other direction. If he is a knave he will seek to pass off inferior work on the city so as to get the profit he wants.

Among the big jobs going at present all over Southern California are those of the new schools. The Los Angeles Builder and Contractor states that on one of these jobs responsible contractors sent in bids, all of which were within a reasonable margin of each other. An outsider sent in a bid that was about $4,000 less than the genuine bids and got the job. In this case it was apparent to the practical men that the outsider must either lose or make up his profit in some manner detrimental to the work he had undertaken.

It is very manifest even to the most meager intellect that if jobs are to be given out to contractors for prices that will not remunerate them for material and labor there is going to be some one defrauded—the contractor who defrauds himself; the material man who will be staved off as long as possible and is likely to lose in the end; the laborers, who of course have their remedy at the expense of the building and the city which will probably, even should the contractor finish the job, be furnished with a building that will cost more in repairs than the difference between the highest and lowest contract.

There can be no satisfaction to a city to have furnished it a wretched half finished building, scamped in every particular and almost tumbling to pieces before it has been in use six months. When to this is added defrauded creditors and a ruined contractor the outlook is painful indeed.

A grasping owner or a grasping board cheats himself or themselves. Sometimes he cheats those who supply materials. In any case it is right and proper that building material dealers should have as they do have, an association to handle such conditions. The obvious lesson, however, is that building material dealers should avoid suicidal competition and turn down all obvious risks.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Piano Lessons

Mrs. Vivian R. Webb is about to form a number of new classes for children. Parents desiring their children to enter a class are kindly requested to bring or send them to Mrs. Webb's studio, 1450 Lomita avenue, Saturday, Sept. 18, or Saturday, Sept. 25, at 9:30 a. m.

Pupils for these classes are accepted from the ages of six to eleven. The younger children are taught largely by means of songs, charts and games. In all classes a thorough foundation is laid in technique, sight reading, ear training and memorizing. Splendid work is accomplished both from the friendly rivalry with which they study a piece or an exercise and the natural impetus which is gained when a number study together.

Mrs. Webb requests that pupils, especially those under nine years, be accompanied by the mother as often as possible, in order that the child may be directed properly in daily practice.

Mrs. Webb will teach two afternoons each week at 114 South Maryland for the benefit of those living in the northern part of Glendale.

CHOIR GATHERING

Mr. and Mrs. Frazee, 1435 West Broadway, are entertaining at their residence, Friday evening, the choir of the Congregational church.

FOR THE PENNY SOCIAL

The young ladies of the two Gleaners classes of the Congregational church are working diligently making articles for sale at the penny social to be given on Oct. 8. This will be the fourth sale of this kind. The attendance is increasing every year, and this year it is expected to beat all records.

PRESBYTERIAN PICNIC

The annual church and Sunday school picnic will be held at Griffith park tomorrow, Saturday, Sept. 18. Auto trucks will leave the church at 8:30 and 9 a. m., making a stop at Brand boulevard and Broadway. Those having autos should arrange to take as many as possible. Tags are sold at 10 cents each to help defray the expenses. Every member of the Sunday school and church congregation, together with their friends, is invited to spend the day at the park.

DODGE BROS. AGENCY

As soon as their new garage and salesroom at 1220 West Broadway is finished, and that will probably be tonight, G. A. Montgomery & Co. will begin the active work of taking care of the Dodge Bros. Motor Car agency in Glendale. The new firm consists of Mr. G. A. Montgomery, whose experience in the automobile field is well known, and of Mr. R. M. Jackson, who at present is secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Jackson may remain still in the secretaryship of the Chamber of Commerce, but he will be compelled to give up the work of attending to the chamber's office during the day. All his time will be devoted to the business of the new auto agency. The agency will handle the 1916 models of both the Dodge car and the Hudson, and expects to do a good business.

"I do not see why we should not create a good and profitable business in Glendale. There is here a large community of well-to-do people, who want just such a car as the Dodge, which is moderate in price, has an air of refinement, is efficient and excellent in every part of its equipment. The Dodge car brings within reach of the customer of moderate means a car that is comfortable and beautiful, instantaneously responsive, gets away with ease and has abundance of power, and all this with a minimum of operating expense and minimum of repair. I think we have a fine field in Glendale, and I feel sure we will make a success in this territory."

PERSONALS

C. G. Wilkinson has leased the property formerly occupied by C. W. McFadden, 1413 Hawthorne street.

Mrs. Chalmers Smith, one of Los Angeles' best-known probation officers, was in Glendale Thursday in connection with a local case.

Captain W. S. Porter, 823 Brand boulevard, who has been confined to his house for some weeks past, is now able to take the air outside in his chair.

Mrs. J. N. Clark and two children of Huntington Park recently moved into the Barron residence on West Broadway.

Alfred Thompson, aged 14, of Brighton, England, who joined the Second Royal Sussex regiment, gained official recognition for bravery in Flanders.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Pico of Los Angeles purchased the Clarence Wilkinson property on Ivy street this week, and will take possession Saturday. The deal was made through the F. H. Wilkins Agency.

Mr. H. A. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson, who have been spending a few days in Riverside, where they had a pleasant visit among their friends, returned Thursday. They made the by auto.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hartmann, who went to St. Paul, Minn., some months ago, returned to Glendale Thursday for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Hartmann have taken up their residence at 210 Dayton court.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kenney, 809 West Fifth street, who have been away on a vacation in Fillmore, where they have enjoyed the many diversions of that beautiful spot, returned home this week.

Mrs. E. L. Jordan, 126 South Maryland street, who has been quite ill with a bad attack of la grippe, is now on the way to recovery. Her daughter was taken ill about the same time with the same complaint, and she also is getting better.

Mrs. Ida Chapman of Los Angeles, organizer for the Fraternal Brotherhood, who is well known in Glendale, on account of her efficient activity in connection with that order, was in this city Thursday afternoon, working diligently among the uninitiated.

John Blake Franklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Franklin, 1498 West Third street, cut his foot very badly on a broken bottle while playing in a vacant lot. Six stitches were taken in the little boy's foot by Dr. Boyer. The action of the city in compelling owners of vacant lots to remove the weeds is calculated to prevent accidents of this kind.

HIGH LIFE FOR CHICKENS

Oak Cliff, Texas, has added a chicken cabaret to its night life. City influences are blamed. The country chicken hunts its roost fully half an hour before twilight, and stays there. But the poultry inhabitants of Oak Cliff have scandalized the little suburb with their nocturnal carryings on.

A curiosity-seeking chanticleer of a hitherto sedate family of Rhode Island Reds is blamed for the great change in feathered domestic circles. Peeping through the window of his roostroom a few nights ago, he was amazed to discover that the yard and street were as brightly illuminated as in the day. Street cars rumbled past, automobiles chugged up the hill, the neighbors' collie trotted out to meet pedestrians, and cats yowled and scampered along the fences. All this was life to the chanticleer. He hopped from his perch and joined the throng.

Out in the bright light at the corner that rooster found a wonderful supply of dainties. There were millions of the most delectable bugs he had ever tasted. The next night the whole family adjourned to the corner. The news spread to other chicken houses. Now every night sees a great assemblage of feathered rounders devouring bugs, promenading, flirting and generally behaving as respectable chickens should not.

STRANGE CURES OF WAR

Crescioni Michele, who recovered his speech and hearing through the joy of seeing his lieutenant again, and Saturnino Squillacciotti, Neapolitan, who regained his speech through hearing a nocturne of Chopin, offer two incidents among the many strange emotional happenings recorded in Italy's warfare.

The Italian temperament seems to be giving daily proof of its actuality.

Crescioni, infantryman, was not actually wounded, but was thrown to the ground and shocked by a shell bursting near him. He lost his hearing and speech and was taken to the hospital at Toronto. All known means proved fruitless to restore him to his normal condition. One day it was learned that his lieutenant had been brought to the hospital. Thinking to give him pleasure, the infantryman was taken to the officer with whom he had shared the joys and sorrows of warfare. The two threw themselves into each other's arms, overcome by emotion. Releasing himself, his face beaming but covered with tears, the unfortunate soldier began to move his lips. With a supreme effort he forced strange, unnatural sounds from his lips. But next day he regained his speech and his hearing.

The case, one of the strongest recorded at the Toronto hospital, is registered as having been a cure due to deep emotion.

The case of Corporal Squillacciotti bears out the well-known theory of the curative power of music. The Neapolitan, like all his race, is a lover of music. In violent combat he became suddenly mute. Taken to the hospital of Modena, he failed to respond to treatment. One evening a doctor, knowing of the corporal's passionate love for music, began playing a Chopin nocturne on the hospital piano.

The soldier, after the doctor had played the music for several minutes, suddenly began to tremble. Then he sprang to his feet, crying, "Bravo, ancora!" His cure had been effected.

REMEDIES FOR FLEAS

Where fleas are found to be breeding in the house itself, the first step is to sweep up all the dust and burn it. Floor coverings should be removed, aired and beaten, and the floor scrubbed with strong soapsuds. Various insecticides have also been found to be effective, but many are either dangerous to health or injurious to various articles.

Fumigation with sulphur fumes or hydro-cyanic acid gas has also been employed to rid dwellings of fleas. Both of these remedies have the additional advantage of killing rats and mice as well as fleas, but sulphur is open to the objection that it corrodes metal and injures plants. Hydrocyanic acid gas is so deadly that its use except under expert direction is quite out of the question. In fumigating with sulphur, four pounds to each 1000 cubic feet of space should be used. The sulphur is piled up cone-shaped in a pan, which is placed in a larger pan or tub of water to avoid fire from the heat generated. A depression is made in the top of the cone of sulphur, a little alcohol then poured into it, and a match applied. The room to be fumigated should be tightly closed beforehand and kept closed from 10 to 12 hours. At the end of that time the doors and windows should be opened from the outside and the room thoroughly aired before it is entered.

Various methods of trapping fleas have been tried at one time or another, but none of these appear to be of as much practical value as the methods already discussed. It is well to remember, however, that the flea can not jump upward very far—a few inches being the usual limit—and for this reason if the legs are protected a person is rarely bitten. In plague-infested areas, where it is of the utmost importance to prevent even a single flea from biting a man, fly paper has sometimes been wrapped around the legs and the fleas that jump against it have been caught and killed in this way. In badly infested regions it is also possible to isolate the bed, if sufficiently high, by taking care to keep the clothing from hanging down. If the legs of the bed are sufficiently rough to enable the fleas to climb up them, they should be placed in large pans of water or fly paper should be wrapped around them.

PICKLED ONIONS

Select small white onions and sort into two sizes, one-half inch diameter in one and three-fourths of an inch in other. Peel. Cover with fresh water and let stand for two days, changing the water on the second day. Wash well and put in brine for four days, changing brine at end of second day. Take out of the brine and put in boiling water. Let stand for 10 minutes; then put in cold water for two hours. Drain and pack in jars, putting in a few small red peppers and garnish with sprigs of mace. Fill jars to overflowing with spiced vinegar, made previously and allowed to stand for a few days with spice bags left in it. Process as for pickles.

SPICED VINEGAR

One-half gallon vinegar, 1½ tablespoons celery seed, one-half cup of grated horseradish, 1 cup sugar, 1½ tablespoons mustard seed, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon cinnamon.

Cloves, nutmeg and grated onion may be added if desired.

HIGH COLLARS THE FASHION

Everything seems to be striving for the higher life as the days grow shorter. The skirts and collars are climbing to ear tips, and hats are going them better.

Some of the collars shown are nothing short of amazing. They are cut like deep flaring cuffs and stand uniformly around the head. It may be an open secret that lovely woman has two legs to stand on, but whether she has a mouth and a chin now remains a dark mystery, thanks to these new collars. For the woman who just won't stick her head into the noose of a choker collar the designers are offering concessions in the form of a collar open in front but jutting up all around the base of the brain and aural appendages behind.

All the fur collars on suits, gowns and coats are high and swathing as the pocketbook will permit. Positively their only limits seem financial. What fur is left over from collars, cuffs and wide banding on the hems of the skirts is used to encircle the tops of the new high shoes.

Of a necessity to keep up with the skirt line, the boots and shoes have had to come up in the world also, and they are proportionately higher than last year's models.

The smart magpie effects of black kid or patent leather with pipings and buttons of white have bandings of white fur around the top. With her tootsies thus embellished with the relico of a cat's ninth life, the winsome wearer may well be designated as "pussy footed."

Bronze boots banded in skunk are simply stunning and a pair of pearly gray kid dress boots with chinchilla are exquisite. All white ones are also shown with the white fur tops for wear with the stunning white velours broadcloth suits deeply banded a la Pusse with wide bands of white fox.

Buttons or laces are a mere matter of personal fancy as to shoe fastenings this fall and winter. Both are equally good just as long as they know their proper place and keep it. No more straying from the middle front to side or back ways. Colored tops will still be worn in moderation, but will oftener be developed in soft-tinted kid than suede or cloth. Heels will be high French affairs and the vamps are shorter.

As for hosiery, it is a perfect riot of color and design. One bronze pair not content with a pair of conservative clocks, one on each side, abolishes the side clocks and has three up the front. This timely style is sure to be striking.

Others are embroidered in contrasting shades and stripes, checks and dots as conspicuous details. Openwork and lace effects are favored for evening wear, as are metallic embroidered hose for wear with the metallic brocade gowns and gold and silver brocaded slippers.

Plain sheer stockings of solid but gorgeous hues are favored fo wear with the high shoes, and often match up the linings of the skirts.

ABOUT SOUTH AMERICA

Youth of St. Louis, gazing with eyes of romance and yearning in the general direction of South America, has received warning from E. G. Berrien of Callao, Peru, a business man, that your typical South American seldom throws away real money and does not gravel his garden walk with butter-colored nuggets. The locale of the tale of King Midas may have been South America, but, Berrien reminds, the neighborhood down there is rather large and the exact scene of the old king's gold-touching had not yet been found.

Berrien's information, received in correspondence here, was timely, for St. Louis being in touch with South America by way of the Mississippi river, romantic stories of fabulous wealth to be acquired by youths of snap and fire had begun to cause vacant chairs at some of St. Louis' family tables. Young men were said to believe that the approved way of becoming rich in South America was the poker-dice-and-gin-rickey-on-the-veranda method, with natives doing the work in the broiling sun. Of course, all Americans down there wore pith helmets and duck suits and had whole companies of native dancers and banjo plunkers working continuously for their entertainment. In fact, the life of the young man down there was very soft.

Berrien has kicked the props from beneath many an air castle. White men have to work in South America, according to his statements, and salaries for clerks are not as high, as a rule, as those prevailing in American cities.

"Young fellows who cannot speak Spanish have scarcely any chance," he said, "and scores of young men are 'down and out,' depending on the charity of their countrymen. The only way to be sure of a good salary and position is to go to South America under contract to some good American firm."

He added that work and perseverance are just as important as they are in the United States.

TROPICO

The Kensington club was entertained at "Palm Villa" by Mrs. David H. Imler Thursday afternoon. Low-cut bowls, vases and baskets overflowing with fragrant magnolias and vari-hued autumn flowers lent an added charm to the large and spacious rooms of Palm Villa, where Mrs. Imler, assisted by Mrs. Myra C. K. Shuey, dispensed generous hospitality. Fifty or more guests enjoyed the afternoon in conversation and music, while busily engaged in art needlework. Out-of-town guests included: Mrs. Ella B. Boyer of Terre Haute, Ind., cousin of Mrs. Imler, and in whose honor Mrs. Imler entertained the Kensington club; Mrs. Hanna of Tennessee, sister of Mrs. Earl V. Coleman; Mrs. Wallace, niece of Mrs. I. J. Spafford; Mrs. W. C. Calhoun of Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Eva M. Blain of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Miles of Des Moines, Iowa, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Ayres of Central avenue Thursday. Thirty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Miles visited Mr. and Mrs. Ayres, a few years after Mr. Ayres and family had come to Tropico from Iowa for future residence. It is superfluous to say that these visitors observe wonderful improvements and changes in Tropico and Glendale since their last visit.

Dr. and Mrs. William Bahrenburg of St. Louis, Mo., who are touring this Western coast and visiting the expositions at San Francisco and San Diego, were the guests of their uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Bahrenberg of "Twin Pines" on West Park avenue, the past week. These visitors are accompanied by Mrs. J. E. Johnson of St. Louis, who is also enjoying the many pleasures and places of interest on this coast.

Miss Pauline Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hamilton of West Tenth street, left for San Francisco Monday. Miss Hamilton, who was graduated from Glendale Union High school in June, will continue her studies at Mills College this year.

Mrs. L. Meyers, Miss Hazel and Miss Linda Meyers of Los Angeles have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ayres the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jamison, who motored to San Francisco a month ago, have returned and are enthusiastic over their delightful trip and their visit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

WAR ODDITIES

A London expert on the wealth of royalty declares the kaiser has already lost $20,000,000 through the depreciation of investments, due to war.

Because of the scarcity of X-ray operators, due to the war, a soldier's child who swallowed a penny died from septic poisoning before an X-ray examination could be had.

Captain Vance Hawker, one of the latest airmen to win the Victoria Cross, comes from a family whose crest is the hawk, and whose motto is, "The hawk seeks booty; we seek glory."

NORTH GLENDALE

Mr. and Mrs. Van Vleck Eddings are house guests of Mr. Eddings' sister, and family, Mrs. C. H. Cunningham of 1013 Fairview avenue. After their visit here Mr. and Mrs. Eddings leave for South America, where Mr. Eddings has a missionary appointment under the Presbyterian Mission board.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bierbower of 922 Fairview avenue were the guests of honor at a beautifully appointed dinner party last Wednesday evening given by Mrs. Jack Wheeler of Los Angeles, the occasion being the double birthday of the honored guests. Covers were laid for sixteen, the other guests who enjoyed the delightful affair including Los Angeles friends.

Mr. Homer Mead has moved from North Pacific avenue to the L. H. Farnham house on San Rafael street.

Miss Ruth J. Wright of 1649 Ruth street was the guest of Miss Hazel Anderson of 320 Cedar street Thursday over night.

Mrs. Richard Taylor has returned to her home in Lankershim after spending a fortnight with her daughter, Mrs. Carleton W. West of 1102 San Rafael street.

Mrs. S. C. Ward, who has been spending several weeks with her son and family, Mr. J. Ward of Dryden street, leaves shortly for her home in the state of Maine.

At the last quarterly conefrence of the Casa Verdugo M. E. church, held the latter part of August, Mrs. M. N. Barnett and Dr. J. E. Eckles were appointed lay delegates to attend the electoral conference to be held at San Diego Sept. 29. These lay delegates elect delegates to the general conference to be held at Saratoga Springs, N. Y. It was unanimously voted to ask the conference to return Dr. Soper for the coming year, and the church is reasonably sure that this request will be granted.

Sunday, Sept. 19, there will be special services at the Casa Verdugo M. E. church. Sunday school at 9:45, George Tyrrell, superintendent. At the morning service at 11 o'clock Dr. Soper will preach on "Doubting Thomas; or, Honest Doubts." Epworth league at 6:45. At the evening service at 7 o'clock Rev. E. M. McCombs of Pasadena, superintendent of Spanish and Portuguese work for the Southern California conference of the Methodist church, will lecture. He will use stereopticon slides to illustrate his lecture. There will be special music at the evening service.

Thursday afternoon the Ladies' Aid of the Casa Verdugo M. E. church met with Mrs. M. E. Brown, 908 Dryden street. This was the first meeting after the summer vacation. There was a good attendance. The plans for the work during the coming months were outlined, and during the meeting $12 was raised to apply on the payment of the piano which the society purchased for the church. The meeting was most interesting. The hostess served dainty refreshments and a social hour followed.

PANAMA-GLENDALE EXPOSITION

Will be held on the grounds of St. Mark's church, corner of Fifth and South Louise streets, tomorrow afternoon and evening. The musical entertainment will be held in the basement of the church at 8 p. m. It will consist of violin, piano and vocal solos and readings by such local talent as Miss Porter, Miss Champlain, Mrs. Wayland-Brown, Mrs. L. R. Bosserman, Mr. Herbert Henning, and others, besides talent from Los Angeles.

On the grounds there will be ice cream, candy, coffee, cake, etc., for sale, and rare entertainment in the way of sleigrt-of-hand performances, trapeeze, fortune telling, etr. Admission to the grounds will be 10 cents, and to the church entertainment 10 cents.

TEXAS HORNED RABBIT

"Out of Africa always comes something new," said the Romans. The people of the United States might apply the same saying to Texas. When a newspaper correspondent is hard up for a story, if he has imagination enough, he invents one and gives Texas as its location. Anything, it would seem, may be predicated of Texas and the public will believe it. Here is a specimen:

"Another horned rabbit was killed near here a few days ago by W. A. Ater of Roscoe. It was the second cottontail with horns to be found in Texas, and leads to the conclusion on the part of local scientists that there is a distinct breed of this species.

"The rabbit which Mr. Ater killed and brought into town had two horns, each about four inches long, protruding from its head just in front of its ears. It presented a grotesque appearance, resembling a miniature deer more than it did a genuine rabbit.

"Some time ago a horned rabbit was killed near San Benito, in the southern part of the state. It was somewhat larger than the ordinary cottontail, but was not of the jackrabbit species. Its horns were about six inches long and of the antler shape. The strange-looking animal attracted much attention on the part of the people of San Benito and surrounding country. Some people believe that these horned rabbits may be the result of a cross between a deer and a rabbit, and that they afford an interesting study for the naturalist."

Russian peasant women have on an average from six to twelve children, of whom about half survive.

LITTLELANDS AND SUNLAND

Golden Wedding

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Blumfield was the scene of a brilliant affair on Saturday evening, September 11, when the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage was celebrated. The evening's entertainment was planned and carried out by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tench, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Blumfield.

William Blumfield was born in London, England, in 1845, and Amelia Adams was born in Chesham, Buckinghamshore, England, in 1844. They were married in the town of Maidenhead, near Windsor, September 11, 1865, in Wesleyan chapel.

They lived in Maidenhead till 1873 at which place four of their children were born. In 1873 they moved to Toronto, Canada, where they lived twenty years, and where two children were born to them. Twenty-two years ago they came to Sunland, where they have since resided.

Invited guests to the number of about fifty participated in the golden wedding celebration. Preceding a repast, a musical program, arranged by R. Walter Maygrove, was rendered. Mr. Maygrove is an instructor of the Monte Vista Valley Band, and was at one time a member of the band in the regiment of King George of England. Among the musical numbers were a piccolo and a flute solo by Miss Dorothy Maygrove and a trio by Russell Blumfield, the eight year old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Blumfield, and Gladys Maygrove, on cornets, and Constance Maygrove, baritone.

At the close of the program, to the strains of a wedding march, the guests, led by Mr. and Mrs. Blumfield adjourned to the spacious and brilliantly lighted lawn, where rows of beautiful golden blow plants in full bloom made a fitting frame for the tables, arranged to seat all of the guests, and which were set with a tempting repast.

The latter part of the evening was enjoyably spent in a social manner and closed with singing old time songs and hymns.

Mr. and Mrs. Blumfield were remembered by their friends with many beautiful and appropriate gifts.

Among the guests were their daughter, Mrs. Frank Tench, with her husband and son George; a son, Alfred Blumfield, with his wife and two children, Russell and Elizabeth; a brother, A. Adams, Sr., and wife, A. Adams, Jr., and family, James Adams and family of Sunland, Mr. and Mrs. Wackerbarth, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wackerbarth, Mr. and Mrs. Fragner and two children, and Geo. Wackerbarth, all near relatives from Los Angeles; also Mr. and Mrs. Preston, two daughters, and a son of Los Angeles, who came from Canada a few years before the Blumfield's. Mr. and Mrs. Newell of Santa Barbara were present. Mr. Newell was a boyhood schoolmate and chum of Mr. Blumfield in the old country and they were neighbors in Canada.

Other guests were the oldest neighbors in Sunland, whom they have known the last twenty years.

Mr. and Mrs. Blumfield are remarkably young looking and vigorous for their years. They have always been identified with all that is best in the progress and welfare of the community, and earnest workers in the church. The heartiest good wishes from all go out to them for many more years of health and happiness.
